

LAST+

LOAD Compilation+

LAST + is used to compile area-related intrinsic weights and predefined payloads of roof, ceiling and wall components. The net weights and payloads of the components are to be understood as project-related load assumptions. These load assumptions can be accessed by the PLUS programs - so the load origin can also be documented.

Actually the translation of the programm in english language is in progress.

